Eden Grey Oak Table

The William Yeoward designed Eden Grey Oak Table. As described by William - The Eden console table from George III period has lived in our hall at home for as long as I can remember. With a great clawed foot and perfect proportions it can easily be put behind a smart sofa and used as a drinks table. Made from oak and finished either in an ebonised finish or a limed rubbed effect and topped with marble the Eden table is to my mind quite perfect.
