Diel Entertainment Console

A wave of inspirational thought is impossible to ignore when oak, steel, and brass are in a balanced composition. With clean lines and the absence of excessive ornamentation, the Jonathan

Charles Diel entertainment console is the perfect marriage between design and functionality. Contemporary polished stainless steel doors featuring an etched water motif elegantly contrast against the natural warmth of whitewashed oak for a compelling and modern look befitting refined spaces. Effortless touch latch technology on four doors allows for easy access to ample storage and adjustable interior shelving.
