Arrow Tray Set of 2

The Arrow Box Set, designed by Jamie Beckwith, is based on a strong graphic shape that comes alive with the contrast of bone and composite in ivory and black along the surface. Originally created in bold patterns for vertical and horizontal surfaces, Beckwith says of the Arrow, "This is a unique take on a chevron pattern. I was inspired by original French chevron parquets and this pattern is an updated version of that. There is a classic feel to this graphic shape with a modern take. It provides a strong underlying structure that bonds all the elements of a room together." There are a number of offerings in this family of products.
