Zyphyrine Table Lamp

The Zyphyrine Table Lamp has a striking fluidity that stems from the flowing shape of the body that is made of blown glass.

There are gold speckles sprinkled throughout the material, which adds a subtle textural feel to the clear lamp. The antique brass on the metal base and hardware draw out the flecks in the glass, as does the finial in the same finish. Because blown glass is so unique from creation to creation, there will be subtle differences in each of these fixtures.
