Clelia Chandelier

Clarence Mallari says of his design of the Clelia Chandelier, “I came across a simple, humble wire crown and wanted to emulate it in a design.” The gold chandelier has a unique construction, as it is made from flat ribbons of metal that are shaped into the airy pattern, which is one of the most difficult fabrications to undertake on metal. The finish, a contemporary gold leaf, brings the formal chandelier with three candelabra sockets a warm glow.
