Tartufo Coco Shell Chandelier

We were intrigued to see what shapes could be achieved with discs made from coconut shells, which inspired the open globe-shape of the Tartufo Coco Shell Chandelier. The bulbs on the interior turn the polished skin of this plant into warm discs, while the exterior remains a cooler shade of tan. There is a slight textural feel to the discs on this tan chandelier, which brings it interest. The chain and hardware on the globe chandelier are in a coco cream finish.
