Cubana Two Tier Chandelier

The bulbs of the Cubana Two-Tier Chandelier nestle into the leaves that curve toward the ceiling to reflect off the natural rattan and create a warm glow. Each leaf made from varying widths of the earthy material is made by hand by artisans who painstakingly affix the patterning to the shape. A wrought iron frame in a coco cream finish complements the color of the natural rattan. The thinner reeds add texture, while the thicker ones imitate the veining of natural leaves
